The School of Law, Raffles University, as per its mission, provides a practice-oriented education with excellent national and global exposures in the field of law. We have the privilege to provide a unique atmosphere and a vibrant learning environment at the university campus. The competent and energetic faculty of the law school helps the students to channelise and utilise their academic potentials in gaining an action-oriented exposure in the field of academics, as well as in clinical legal education.

There is an efficient system for giving due credits for regular attendance, as well as for excellence in projection of the content of the academic curriculum in writing as well as through oral presentations. We ascertain that students proceed with magnificent balance in their academic and co-curricular activities. This imprints the qualities of sincerity, punctuality, and leadership in them.
