MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIRPERSON,
GOMBER EDUCATION FOUNDATION

DR. JUSTICE MEENA V. GOMBER

FORMER JUDGE - RAJASTHAN HIGH COURT

CHAIRPERSON - GOMBER EDUCATION FOUNDATION CHIEF

PATRON - RAFFLES SCHOOL OF LAW

The modern concept of legal education is to learn by bringing about a proportionate admixture of reading, observation, participation and practice.

Mooting and Mock Trials have been emphasized by the legal educationalists as capable of inculcating in the future lawyers the art of being articulate, developing fluency and clear enunciation of thought bearing, the art of persuasion and making a succinct and intelligible putting up of a case.

Moots are legal problems in the form of imaginary cases argued by two students or two groups of students acting as counsel for each side with a bench of judges or a bench presided over by a judge.

The purpose achieved by Moots and Mock Trials is beautifully highlighted with a sense of humour by Lewis Carroll in 'Alice in Wonderland' in the following stanza:-

"In my youth", said his father, "I took to the law. And argued each case with my wife. And the muscular strength which it gave to my jaw, has lasted the rest of my life."

MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIRPERSON, RAFFLES UNIVERSITY

Raffles University. Neemrana is a dream and vision of Gomber Education Foundation to provide integrated pathway to quality education. In order to achieve this, one needs infrastructure that meets global standards, experienced team of professors and faculty who have international exposure and an environment that provides resources for its students, enabling them and challenging them to grow as individuals and identify their passions. SHRI VIVEK GOMBER
CHAIRPERSON - RAFFLES UNIVERSITY

Message from the President, Raffles University

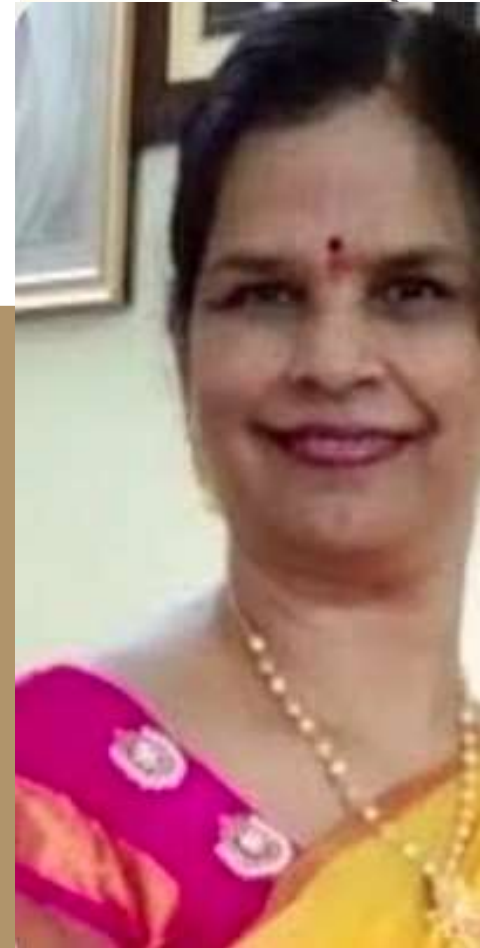

The Universities are working very hard to make the higher education meaningful and relevant. Experiments are being done by a number of Universities, to make their end product (graduates) 'fit for job' using their own strategies. Emphasis is on bringing out competent persons who can meet the requirements of the employers. In short, higher education is driven by Job market.

I do believe that the aim of Universities is to inculcate confidence, commitment and concern as basic values in addition to providing knowledge. Raffles University is being established on high ideals with a vision to shape the youth as per the desire of Swami Vivekananda. Curriculum and pedagogy are designed to blossom the inbuilt capacity of each student.

'Scientia est potentia' which means 'Knowledge is Power' is our dhyeya vakya. We equip, expose, empower and enlighten you to face any challenge of the life with confidence, but not compromising with ethical values.

I do extend an open armed welcome to the University and to our flagship event. I believe that you will make this competition great.

School of Law of Raffles University has been founded with a vision to chisel out most competent legal professionals who are confident and committed. We equip, expose, enlighten and empower our students to take up any professional challenge with confidence. Students have been exposed to moot Court exercises from the beginning. Participation in moot court competitions outside the school is made compulsory. I am extremely happy and wish all the best to the participants from different law universities/institutions. Our Moot court faculty and student coordinators are doing a commendable job, and their efforts are appreciable, without which organizing such a gala event is not feasible. The SURANA & SURANA and School of Law, Raffles University jointly organize national moot court competition on Labour Laws/Employment Law annually. It is the area of law that governs the employer-employee relationship. The prime objective of labor laws is to prevent discrimination, Promote health and safety, Establish a minimum required level for economic support, Prevent work disruption due to disputes between labour and management. This moot is an attempt to focus on immersing labour issues related to both national and international levels.

MOOT PROPOSITION

- I. Geographical barriers have been broken by developments in Technology. The most glaring impact of this can be seen in the development of Tele-medicine which facilitates the outsourcing of healthcare-related activities to destinations like India which possess a robust medical talent pool which can provide medical services at lower cost.
 - II. Anticipating a boom in the healthcare outsourcing activity, Dr. JJ decided to quit his position as Head of Radiology with a leading Pune hospital to set up a company in the teleradiology space. In September 2002, he formed JJ Diagnostics Private Limited along with his wife Stella, and set up a new facility in Pune. In order to safely Beta-test his model, Dr. JJ started discussions with Terry Fox Foundation Cancer Center, California for providing tele-radiology services.
 - III. This project was a success for both the parties. The TFF Cancer Foundation benefitted by reduction of costs and time. As a result, TFF Cancer Foundation decided to sign a 5-year contract worth 10 million USD with JJ Diagnostics. Inspired by this success, Discovery Hospital, New Delhi also started a tele-radiology project worth 5 crore with JJ Diagnostics.
 - IV. Keeping in mind, the increasing demand on his company, JJ Diagnostics decided to expand their operations and started to seek job-applications for qualified radiologists. The candidates required a minimum qualification of a masters' degree in radiology from any reputed Indian medical college. The advertisement stated that although not a must, a master's degree from a reputed U.S. or U.K. medical college was preferable.
 - V. Dr. Manjari was one of the qualified radiologist who decided to seized the opportunity and applied for the post of teleradiologist. In her application, she stated that she had a masters' degree in radiology from the University of Goa and also a further masters' degree from the University of Marlborough in the U.S. As a result of being a qualified candidate, Dr. Manjari was hired by JJ Diagnostics on February 2003. The following were the terms of her contract of employment:

- i. The employee shall work with JJ Diagnostics for a period of at least 5 years, and in case the employee left his/her services within the 5-year period, then all expenses incurred by JJ Diagnostics in training the employee had to be reimbursed by the employee to the company;
 - ii. The employee shall maintain strict confidentiality in respect of all information pertaining to customers received during the course of employment with JJ Diagnostic
 - iii. The employee shall comply with the provisions of (i) the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (HIPAA) and the privacy rules and regulations issued thereunder, and (ii) other data protection and privacy laws as are applicable in India;
 - iv. The employment contract can be terminated by either party by giving 3 months' prior written notice; and
 - v. In case of termination, the employee cannot be employed with another entity carrying on a competing business, for a period of 2 years from the date of ceasing to be employed with JJ Diagnostics.
 - VI. JJ Diagnostics also provided a 6 weeks training programme with American College of teleradiologists in New Jersey, US. Dr. Manjari and her colleague, Dr. Johnny were chosen to attend this programme which they completed in March-April 2003.
 - VII. Strict confidentiality clauses were included in contracts with TFF Cancer Foundation and with Discovery Hospital, Delhi. In view of this, the obligation of JJ Diagnostics to comply with data protection and privacy laws were passed on to the employees under the employment contracts. In June 2004, Dr. Jacob also received an award from the Indian Medical Council recognizing his pioneering role in the promotion of outsourced healthcare services for India.
 - VIII. However, in August 2004, Dr. Jacob received notice from a court in Moonvale, California of a suit filed by the TFF Foundation against JJ Diagnostics seeking damages of US$ 15 million for breach of its confidentiality obligations by JJ Diagnostics under its contract with the Terry Fox Foundation. The notice claimed that several patients of the Terry Fox Foundation had initiated a suit against its hospital in Moonvale on the ground that their records pertaining to diagnostic information was divulged by the hospital or its agents thereby causing severe harm and damage to the patients, including the death of two patients. An internal enquiry, the Terry Fox Foundation found that all its systems and controls were fully operational and that the data that was leaked related only to patients whose radiology reports were outsourced to JJ Diagnostics and not to those patients whose reports were prepared internally by the hospital. The Terry Fox Foundation therefore had strong reason to believe that the leak occurred at JJ Diagnostics' end and hence brought about a suit against the later for recovery of damages. A similar action was filed by the Discovery Hospital against JJ Diagnostics in the High Court of Judicature at New Delhi, alleging that JJ Diagnostics had leaked information due to which its patients have sued the hospital.

- IX. Dr. JJ conducted an internal probe headed by a retired judge of Patna High Court. It directly linked the leakage of information to Dr. Manjari, who was until then considered to be a bright and sincere radiologist with an unblemished track record in the company.
- X. Dr. Manjari later confessed that she had passed on patient information to Dr. Ross who was the owner of a pharmaceutical company in US. It was not clear whether Dr. Manjari had received any monetary reward or other benefit for providing this information.
- XI. Dr. Jacob decided not to dismiss Dr. Manjari from employment with the company. Instead, he offered to Dr. Manjari that she could terminate her employment by giving 3 months' notice as required under her employment contract. Therefore, on the very same day, Dr. Manjari submitted her resignation letter terminating her employment effective 3 months from the date of the letter.
- XII. On October 16, 2004, Dr. Manjari addressed a detailed email to Dr. Jacob. In this email she highlighted instances of sexual harassment that she suffered in the company. She mentioned that her team member Dr. Johnny had the habit of rubbing shoulders with her each time they were passing through the office corridors in opposite directions. This, she says, is a deliberate act on the part of Mr. Johnny as it has occurred on various occasions over a long period of time. Further she states in her email that during a few overseas trips, in spite of repeatedly requesting him not to do so, Dr. Johnny would ensure that his seat on the airplane was next to that of Dr. Manjari, and that he would constantly attempt to engage in a conversation with her, without enabling her to take any rest during a long and tiresome journey. Further, his conversations were often very rude and impolite. In fact, on one occasion, he told Dr. Manjari with reference to a lady sitting across the aisle, that "the female over there is very cute". Dr. Manjari strongly protested against this and told Dr. Johnny that this was denigrating and humiliating of women. In her letter, Dr. Manjari wrote to Dr. Jacob that this amounted to sexual harassment suffered by her and that she needs to be appropriately redressed.
- XIII. As a response to this, Dr. Jacob replied that upon conducting a background check, it was found that Dr. Manjari had not received a degree from the University of Marlborough as she had claimed in her application for employment. Therefore, apart from divulging confidential information regarding patients, she had also committed fraud on JJ Diagnostics by lying about her educational qualifications. As regards the sexual harassment allegations, an internal inquiry committee headed by Dr. Jacob heard Dr. Manjari in detail and thereafter convened a meeting on December 10, 2004 to hear Dr. Johnny.

- XIV. Criminal allegations regarding data theft under section 43 of IT Act have been levelled against Dr. Manjari by JJ Diagnostics.
 - XV. Further criminal allegations of resume fraud have been levelled by JJ Diagnostics against Dr. Manjari.
